

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. When huge companies like Sinclair control the airways-there must be media ownership rules to ensure that we consumers are not receiving information (and news) that is skewed to the benefit of that corporation or company.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process must be looked at carefully as the foundations of our country and ideals are being whittled away at. Thank you.
